Too Late TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

At long last, as the "Duke of Windsor" might put it, we have our new citrus commission. Governor Ford seemed to have just about the hand to choose the men to make a selection.

As might be expected, the announcement hadn't any more than been made before some folks began wagging their heads and finding fault, but that attitude is typical of the citrus industry.

Maybe you or me, if we'd been doing it, wouldn't have picked any of the men the governor selected, but that doesn't prove that they are any more right or that he is any more wrong, and chances are if you and I, were a separate group and made up our lists they wouldn't be anywhere near alike and we'd be calling each other names long before we could even come to an agreement.

But getting back to the commission, we were yelling for it, and now we got it. It seems to me the best thing we can do right now is quit squawking and get down to business. If we expect to get anything out of it, we must make up our mind to like it.

Now if growers and shippers alike will quit screaming and kicking and get down to business with the commission in a sincere effort to solve the problems of the industry, we will get a lot further than we ever get pulling in opposite directions.

The intelligent distribution and marketing of Florida citrus crop is no slouch job; it calls for some sure-enough generalship and plenty of wholehearted cooperation. There's a lot more to be planned, and in newspapers or starting and stopping a car of fruit.

In spite of laws, rules and regulations it seems to me that the fruit that is unfit for human consumption. True, it may pass the test and all that, but you just try to satisfy an irate housewife, who has paid plenty of regular money for a mess of green fruit, that she has no complaint because it passed the test—and if she don't down you with a rollin' pin she ought to.

And for the next six months anything that even looks like an orange or a grapefruit looks her worse, includin' the pretty colored picture of Florida fruit in her favorite magazine. When she sees our ad she says "Oh yeah," and then calls up her grocer and orders a dozen cans of prune juice or some sliced pineapple.

Then when she turns on her radio and a sweet voice says "Have you ever tried sweet tree-ripened Florida grapefruit for breakfast?" she switches to another station and she listens to some "radio" advertising of a censor for radio advertising.

No, I'm not ladin' out any bananas or I'm tellin' you facts. I've personally experienced the disgust that attends sinkin' ones fangs into some of the so-called fruit. Heida tries to pawn off on her best customers early in the season, and I know what I'm talkin' about.

Visit the smaller communities in any state and you constantly hear the complaint "We can't get Florida fruit." This condition has existed for years and nobody seems to be able to do anything about it. We spend a lot of money urging folks in these communities to eat Florida fruit and they say "We can't get it." But the biggest laugh is that the connection with the whole citrus industry, to my mind, was the guy who was "telling" me all about it the other day and said "No matter what happens we gotta keep the citrus industry out of politics." The gentlemen that right, of course, but he should have said GET IT OUT.

There's more politics in citrus groups and organizations than there is in the whole town of Tallahassee!

All the money collected by the Florida Citrus Commission, a division of the Florida Industrial Commission is to be used exclusively for the payment of benefits starting in 1939 to growers who become unemployed through no fault of their own. All items expense for administering the law are paid by the federal government.

The first payment of contributions under this state unemployment compensation "law" becomes due and payable on or before October 28.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Sunday, October 3, 1937

"THE CHRISTIAN, WHO IS HE?"

Read I John 3, Lesson passage I John 3:1-6, 18-24.

Lesson Text:—But as many as received him, to them gave he the power to become the sons of God: John 1:12.

THE CHRISTIAN, WHO IS HE?—The lessons of October give us a picture of the "Christian" as the Christian. In unmistakable terms John in his general letter to all Christians assures them that they are God's sons. Who is the greatest man in the world? He must be the Christian man who has been crowned with the sonship of God, to whom "divine" fellowship and privileges have been awarded.

THE GIFT OF SONSHIP COMES FROM THE FATHER.—"Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: John 3:1." Is beyond the comprehension of the worldly "not"—"therefore the world knoweth us not." The world is without any power to judge what is true and false, despite the fact that all Christians are commanded to show forth themselves to the world like lamps on the stand and as cities set on a hill.

How can a man come to be a son of God with all the privileges and powers of a prince of the King of kings and Lord of lords? First, the underlying reason is love: "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God: John 3:1." John literally says, "Look at the kind of love the Father has given unto us." It reaches beyond the reasoning of man because it not only offers to save, but it offers the price of a sin, but it offers to make him a son of God.

John says, "We should behold such love and meditate upon it, loved eternally." Second, by this love man is transformed. God so loved the world that he sent his own Son into the world and made the indwelling in producing the fruit by which man could be transformed.

THE METHOD OF TRANSFORMATION IS THE MIRACULOUS OF REBIRTH. We can not explain this miracle in its working any more than we can see the wind but the results are as evident as any reality. Jesus said to the learned Nicodemus, "Ye must be born again. No man however learned or religious is the true son of God and joint heir with Jesus until the miracle of rebirth is performed in his soul and heart, and none but God can perform it. But we have the assurance that God stands ready to open at the door of our hearts to perform it: "Behold I stand at the door and knock," (Rev. 3:20). "But as many as received him, to them he gave the power to become the sons of God: (John 1:12). The complete story of our transformation is not known. "I do not yet appear what we shall be—but we know we shall be like him."

THE TRANSFORMING MIRACLES CHANGES THE LIFE HABITS AND DESIRES OF MAN. "He purifieth himself." Heida no longer a transgressor of the law but a promoter of the law order. The Holy Spirit shows him all things, the good is divided him the evil. As long as God dwells in him after he opens the door he will not sin.

We are strengthened by the personal proof of our high position. We would greatly strengthen ourselves by stopping long enough to say each day, "I am God's son." I am the child of the King.—"And hereby we know that he abideth in us by the spirit which he hath given us." (I John 3:24). It is the spirit of love, just like our own great love. It is sincere and powerful, not a mere expression of lips and words but of acts and deeds of goodness toward all mankind. By the presence of this spirit of love we are given inward cleanness that stimulate the soul to action. "We know that we have passed from death into life because we love the brethren," (I John 3:15). We are emboldened to hold up our heads and pray and talk with God and we receive Divine favor.

Recognizing ourselves as sons of God makes us want to obey him every commandment. There need be no compulsion, and the result of this obedience is that whenever we ask we receive of him.

But John in the 23rd verse which made it clear that he was not talking about, keeping the Ten Commandments Moses gave us. "But this is his commandment, that we should believe on the name of his son Jesus Christ." Obedience to this command alone brings about the miracle of making

HEATON EXPLAINS INDUSTRIAL SET-UP

Interfered by H. E. Erwin is also under the workmen's compensation division and is working on an industrial safety campaign to reduce the number of accidents occurring in industry.

"It is the duty of the workmen's compensation division, under the direction of Robt. W. Davis and the supervision of the Florida industrial commission, to see that the provisions of the workmen's compensation act are carried out."

"The unemployment compensation act was passed by the 1937 legislature and provides for the payment of weekly benefits to eligible unemployed Florida workers after January 1, 1939."

"One of the provisions of the social security act was that a state upon passing an approved unemployment compensation law could collect 90 per cent of a two per cent excise tax levied under, this act of the federal act on the total payroll of employers of 8 or more persons for any part of a day during 20 different weeks of a calendar year."

The Florida law was approved by the social security board June 24, 1937, and is retroactive in the tax provisions to January 1, 1937. For 1937 employers liable under this act will pay to the state 18 per cent of this excise tax, levied under title IX of the social security act to be used solely for the payment of unemployment compensation to eligible unemployed Florida workers, benefits to start after January 1, 1939. The remaining 2 per cent will continue to be collected by the Federal government.

"Therefore, the main difference is that under the workmen's compensation act the worker receives compensation for injury while under unemployment compensation he will receive compensation for involuntary unemployment," Mr. Heaton concluded.

Checks or money orders representing remittances under Florida's unemployment compensation law should be drawn to the order of the Florida Unemployment Compensation fund.

from the conservation officers in the field. Where hunting is heavy game is depleted.

While it is impossible for the 103 conservation officers of the commission to check the thousands of hunting licenses sold each season, says the secretary, cooperation of the part of sportsmen in seeing that their licenses are among those "counted" would greatly facilitate this work. He calls attention of sportsmen to the blank upon which "report of game killed in the previous season" is to be made, the same being attached to the application for hunting license which each must fill. He asks that the matter be not overlooked. The commission makes a special appeal to every man who goes into the field to hunt; for cooperation, in these matters and for one hundred per cent cooperation in the keeping of the game laws. Only when this is had, says the commission, is hunting under Florida's liberal game laws safe.

Ross Robertson, an assistant chemist at the State Experimental Farm in Belle Glade for a number of years was in Moore Haven last week looking for a house to rent and made the announcement that he would move to Moore Haven about the first of October to assume management of the Everglades Milling company and begin operation of the plant as soon as possible. The plant has been idle for nearly a year.

All of the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii now have unemployment compensation laws approved by the Social Security board and similar to the one in force in Florida.

Labor legislation passed by the 1937 legislature is destined to have a far reaching effect upon the lives of the laboring class of the state. One of the most important of these labor acts is the unemployment compensation law.

Recent Operations

It happened that C. C. Clem, Mrs. Clem, Attorney Thaddeus Whidden, Clyde Doolittle and Robert S. Doolittle, Jr., were fishing on Jensen bridge at the same time I was there. They tried, tried and tried to jump some of the salt water trout. Their luck was no good. I gave them a few lessons in the many art of outwitting salt water trout. Had the weather not been threatening I might have remained a little longer. But during the few minutes I fished I landed a nice big jack and three of the finest trout you've ever seen. Just to give the other fishermen encouragement I left the string with them and returned to shelter. Last reports from them said that my original string was all that the group of fishermen carried home.

Starting with 1943 an employer in Florida who has had comparatively stable employment in his organization may obtain a reduction in his contribution rate. The rate may be as low as 1 per cent and as high as 2.7 per cent.

Return of liability reports from employers throughout the state show them vitally interested and willing to cooperate to the fullest extent in unemployment compensation.

ANCHOR BRAND SEED POTATOES Grown in the Cumberland Mountains of Tennessee

The stock we have are grown from carefully selected certified seed.

The State of Tennessee requires three years rotation and is the only State that requires spraying, and they also have a very rigid inspection and roguing program.

All certified seed must be graded in the presence of the State Inspector who then tags and seals every bag as it comes from the scales.

Every effort has been put forth to grow and produce fine high yielding seed, free from disease. Anchor Brand Seed will stand out against any other.

Green seed will not set as heavy a crop as mature seed. Anchor Brand Seed are harvested earlier, thereby affording a longer rest period.

Potatoes shrink up to 5% the first few days after harvest. Anchor Brand Seed are stored several weeks before being shipped, which insures full weight at the time of shipping.

THIS TRACTOR MASTERS MUCK

CATERPILLAR

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Here, one of the first Model 22 Caterpillars is doing some tough plowing for Mr. C. S. Moore near Pahokee, Fla. Twelve inches deep—7½ acres per day—2½ gallons of cheap tractor motor fuel per hour. Mr. Moore owns two of these Model 22 tractors. Repeat orders from our present owners is our best recommendation.

The "CATERPILLAR" track-type tractor is complete MASTER on muckland fields. Broad tracks ride on top of the soil. Wide, grouseres brace the tractor's pull. A sturdy engine that stays at work and burns cheap tractor fuel. That combination means traction for action—power to set work done in the "doughest" muck.

Let us tell you more about this all-year producer. Or, better yet let us give you a demonstration on your farm. Get in touch with us to-day or phone Johnnie Miller, salesman, at Pahokee 3171.

Through over last week we stated that the above tractor belongs to Mr. J. W. Cochran. However, Mr. Cochran does own two Model 22 Caterpillars, one of them being purchased a few weeks ago because of the dependable service rendered by the first, Model 22.
